请您阅读以下有关课堂的说明：

Behaviour Expectations

1. Please follow the student policy and the laboratory rules at all times.
2. Please read and follow the “STEAM Class Safety Disclosure and Agreement for Classroom Tools, Equipment, and Chemicals”
3. Do not bring or eat food in the class. Only drinking of water is allowed in the class. Other liquids are not allowed.
4. Please bring your dedicated STEAM folder with notes and pencil case (with pens) for each class.
5. In class, always raise your hands first if you have any questions or needs. If you need further assistance, please come to me after class and talk to me privately.

Homework Guidelines

1. Homework must be completed and submitted on time before Monday 8:30am. Evidence of homework completion such as a screenshot or showing the teacher the results from the device may be necessary.
2. Use of electronic devices is NOT necessary to do STEAM homework, the homework can be downloaded and printed and handed to the teacher in a paper hard copy, or the student/parent can request the teacher to provide a paper hard copy. The electronic version of the homework is for accessibility purposes, and to help teach students how to use educational technology.

3. Homework is found on ManageBac (MB), Github, and easily found on the whiteboard in Room 408.
4. Write down your homework task and deadline date in your notes so you don't forget.
5. Homework not submitted on the deadline will be an automatic zero on MB.
6. You must submit your homework to get a score.
7. You are responsible for catching up on any missed work.
8. "I forgot", "I can't access ManageBac", "I didn't do it." etc. are not acceptable reasons.
9. I will directly notify your parents for late submissions on MB.
10. Please complete your work independently, any forms of plagiarism will get you a zero.
11. Homework not finished on time, or poor performing scores (i.e. a score of 0) may result in detention and a behavior note on MB which is visible to the homeroom teacher and parents.

Note-Taking Guideline

1. Students should have a note book, folder, or both to write and store notes and handouts from class.
2. The notes that you take will be used frequently in future classes and homework.
3. Parents should regularly check on the students notes and homework progress once every week or so.
4. The teacher will stamp notes that are accurate and completed. Students that have not received a stamp have not submitted it to the teacher for formative feedback.
5. Please organize all your notes carefully in a dedicated STEAM folder. Do not share this folder with any other class as this wastes time when trying to locate notes. Notes pile up fast from each subject.
6. You are responsible for your own notes if they are lost.

After reading all the information, students and parents please scan the QR code, and complete the online form to sign that you have received and understood the document.
